

Assignment #4

In your final assignment, you will present a summary of your final paper to the rest of the class. Your presentation should include information on the following elements:

1. Title of the paper
2. Research Question
3. Theory
4. Hypotheses
5. Data
6. Method
7. Results (Optional)

The presentation should not last more than five minutes.

For the final paper, you will be assessed on both the substantive content (the social science part) and your demonstrated competency in coding and text analysis (the computational part). You can use this opportunity to ask for feedback on any part you might need help with. This includes connecting your research question to your empirical design, connecting your hypotheses to the operationalization of your variables, suggestions on data sources, suggestions on methods, interpretation of your results, etc.
